Claude Code Cheat Sheet

The eight things that make it work like a teammate, with the tip most people miss.

`CLAUDE.md` Your rulebook

A file Claude reads at the start of every session: your brand, your market, your MLS and disclosure rules. Type /init to start one.

TIP Keep it short and specific. A long, vague rule file gets skimmed.

`Skills` Jobs you repeat

Saved instructions for work you do every week, like a listing description or a seller update. Type / to see yours.

TIP Turn any checklist you repeat into a skill, and the result comes out the same every time.

`/mcp` Connect your tools

Connectors let Claude reach your email, calendar, CRM or documents directly.

TIP Stop copy-pasting. Connect the tool once and let Claude read what it needs.

`/agents` Helpers on the side

Subagents take a side job, like research or a second draft, in their own space, so your main chat stays clean.

TIP Hand off the research and keep working on the main job.

`Shift + Tab` Plan mode

Claude lays out the plan first and changes nothing until you say so.

TIP Read the plan, fix what's wrong, then say "go ahead."

`/compact` Free up room

Summarizes a long conversation so Claude has space to keep working.

TIP Starting a different job? Use `/clear` for a fresh start. Long, mixed sessions are where mistakes creep in.

`Esc` Stop and back up

Press Esc to stop Claude mid-step. Press it twice to go back to an earlier message and try again.

TIP Heading the wrong way? Stop early. It's cheaper than undoing later.

`/resume` Pick up where you left off

Reopens an earlier session, history and all.

TIP One session per job (one listing, one client) keeps each one focused.

Claude Code is Anthropic's tool, sold separately (not included). AiRE Estate is not affiliated with Anthropic.
Commands as of November 2026; type /help for the current list.
